LECTURE ON ART IS INTERESTING

Mrs. M. J. Coulter Gives First of Free Series; Another Thursday Evening

The first of the three lectures on art by Mrs. M. J. Coulter of Chicago was given last evening at the Library of Hawaii. Her subject was "The Art Crafts of America," which she handled in a most interesting way.

One of the points Mrs. Coulter emphasized was that the technicians of today insist upon a strict division between "art" and "craft," and the former has been classed with such distinction as "fine arts," and the crafts as "minor" or "industrial arts," when all art had its beginning in craft, and the first artist was a craftsman.

Mrs. Coulter told of the early weaving in the New England colonies, also of the work of "Master" Foulke, who some time between 1758 and 1785 established a pottery at Morgantown, West Virginia, and how one after another the art-crafts grew until now they are to be found manifesting themselves in every factory and every industry in the land.

The lecturer was introduced by Mr. A. R. Gurrey, Jr.

Mrs. Coulter's second lecture Thursday evening will be on "Etching and Etchers." This lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides.

The lectures are all free.

'NO STRINGS' ON BENEFIT MONEY GIVEN DE FOLCO

No Embezzlement Charges to Be Preferred; Show Thursday to Aid Ballet

Almost penniless and with claims against Signor Eugenio de Folco for salaries for the past week, members of the stranded De Folco Opera Company will give a benefit performance on Thursday afternoon of this week, the entire proceeds to go to the dancers of the corps de ballet, the seven girls facing real distress.

Announcement was made this morning that the benefit performance will be given in the National theater on Thursday, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, that several of the company's stars will sing operatic selections, that use of the theater has been given, and that the entire receipts will be turned over to the girls.

Vergeri, soprano; Poggi, tenor; Giovacchini, baritone; Perreira, coloratura soprano, and others will sing. Tickets are now on sale at the National theater box office at 50 cents each.

As far as the city attorney's office is concerned, charges of embezzlement will not be brought against Eugenio de Folco, impresario, for the reason that there are no visible grounds for such an action because, one official said today, the office understands that the money derived by The Footlights from the benefit performance was turned over to De Folco "without any strings attached."

Deputy City Attorney A. M. Cristy says that his office has conducted an investigation to ascertain whether De Folco had appropriated for his own use money belonging to another person or persons, and has reached the conclusion that there are no grounds for embezzlement charges against the impresario.

The third court action involving the De Folcos was instituted shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when L. L. Burr, a local attorney, filed in circuit court a suit to recover $740, this amount representing the claims of several members of the company, including some of those in the ballet. Eugenio de Folco is named as defendant and Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth de Folco and Andrew L. Benson as garnishees.

MORNING ON 'CHANGE

This morning's market was erratic. At some spots it slumped, under heavy profit taking. At others there was a scramble to "get aboard," under rumors of splendid annual statements, while still other spots were only moderately depressed by the drop in sugar yesterday afternoon. Sales totaled 6275 shares. Oahu has suffered a decided drop, selling down to $15.50, a slump of 50 cents, and with offerings at that figure ignored at the close. McBryde too, is down 75 cents to $13. Waiakua is firm, with considerable trading, and Hawaiian Commercial is up 50 cents a share. Pioneer has gained almost one point, and Honolulu, after a temporary slump, is up to $9 again. Oahu Sugar is down, from 3/4 to 3/8. Other sugar issues are unchanged. Pahang Rubber is firm at an advance to $17.50.

Annie Flores, who says she lives in Camp 2, was picked up last night on Hotel street with a long knife gash in the upper right arm. At first she said her husband cut her, and later declared a Chinese attacked her on Keolu street. She was treated at the Emergency hospital.

British prisoners held by the Turks number 47 officers and 595 men, it was announced in London.

FORBES' TRIP TO WASHINGTON NOT CALLED OFF YET

Superintendent Forbes may go to Washington. That is how the matter stands this afternoon.

"After hearing that the Chamber of Commerce had decided to obtain the services of George McK. McClellan as their representative at Washington I decided that I would stay in Honolulu and do what I could for the furtherance of improvements here," Mr. Forbes declared today. "As I see it, there is no necessity of the territory's having two representatives before Congress."

"But, Mr. Forbes, it is understood that the governor has taken up with the Secretary of the Interior the advisability of your appearing before Congress."

"Yes, I believe that he has. If Mr. Lane approves I may go to Washington."

George McK. McClellan was appointed congressional representative of the Chamber of Commerce at a salary of $700 a month at a special meeting of the board of directors yesterday afternoon. The territory's delegate is leaving Washington to attend to some private business in Honolulu and Mr. McClellan is to unofficially take his place.
